Language Skills Practiced in the English Language Lab:

Listening

The typed text of the students on demand provides the pronunciation; which the students can listen and repeat afterwards.

In the language lab classes while having group discussions (using the headset) the students can listen to each others use of language clearly.

The audio broadcast facility of the language lab enables the students to listen to the instructions and lessons of the teacher more clearly.

Reading

Reading the pre typed lessons in the software or reading the lessons provided by the teacher enables the students to understand and use the language even better.

Also reading the words out loud and hearing it themselves (in the headset) makes them aware of their own pronunciation.

Speaking

Repeating the lessons and speaking it out as words sentences and passages is a practice of self evaluation for the students

Public speaking, Debating and extemporaneous speeches make the students better equipped with their language skills.

Writing

Writing Assignments provide an opportunity for the students to explore and use the three learnt skills of Listening, Reading and Speaking.

The constant engagement of the students with the writing parts of the language will better their use of grammar.

Grammar and its variety of its uses will help the student grow better in language.

Report on Value Added Course

Date: 08.01.2020

Course Name: "Vivekanander Jibanadarsha O Yuba Samaj"

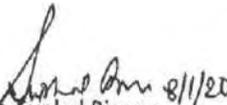

Objectives: To increase social awareness and build moral character of the young.

Department of Bengali arranged a Value Added Course on 2nd January, 2020 for the students of the department. Apart from the syllabus there are many other things which are important to know for the development of character. So the Bengali department has decided to teach this course. Swami Vivekananda was the greatest wise man in nineteenth century. By the lectures and speeches of Swami Vivekananda, many youth were inspired to ideas of social-service and character-building. Swami Vivekananda dedicated his life to teaching and guiding the youth the importance of social-service and laying the groundwork of character and leader attributes. Swami Vivekananda was a mighty inspiration to youth throughout his lifetime, and continues to inspire the youth of today. Course completed on 8th January, 2020.

Good, healthy food provides energy to the cell and when that works through chemical reaction properly, your body and mind reflect the effect of food. How do they affect your body, mind, personality and behaviour? Is food an important part of our social life too? Lets find out the answer within this 30 hrs. Lets know the secrets of Happy Eating & Good Living: Food Chemistry in Everyday Life..

Course Content

1. Constituents of food
2. Quality factors in food
3. Organic and Natural food
4. Additives in food
5. Food borne illness
6. Adulteration in food

Course Outcome

Course will be completed by the faculties of Dept. of Chemistry,SSM. After completing the course, students will be able to understand - the importance of chemistry in food, the effect of food in physical and mental health of human beings, how food can effect their behaviour and it's impact on their social life. Everything they will learn from the perspective of Chemistry and it's deeper role to control our life through the consumption of food. This understanding will lead them to a healthy future.

Certification

E- certificates will be provided to all participants after completion of the course

Course Duration : 30 hrs

VALUE ADDED COURSE ON FOOD CHEMISTRY

CONDUCTED BY

DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY, SURYA SEN MAHAVIDYALAYA

SYLLABUS

(Each Lecture is of 1.5 hrs duration)

Constituents of Food: 4 Lectures

A brief idea of all constituents

Carbohydrate: General Chemical formula with examples, Classification, Types of carbohydrate in food, Food sources, Function of Carbohydrates in human body, Ill effect of inadequacy & excess

Proteins: General formula with examples (idea of amino acids), Food sources, Importance, Effect of deficiency

Fat: Definition with examples, Differences of fats and oils, Edible & non edible fat, Food sources, Importance/ functions, Hazards associated with deficiency as well as accumulation

Vitamins: Definition, Classification with examples, scientific names and common names of each, Food sources of each type, Functions of each type, Hazard of deficiency of each type

Fiber / Roughage: Components, examples, Importance, Hazard of deficiency

Water, Chemical formula, structure, physical characteristics, Importance, Food sources with various forms, Water activity of food

Organic and Natural Food - Quality Factors: 4 lectures

Organic foods: Definition, Discussion of nutritional quality of organic food. Advantage and disadvantage of organic food.

Organic food is more healthy - Brief discussion using examples of milk, egg, meat, vegetable etc.

Discussion on recent research work regarding organic food production

Presence of pesticides residues percent in organic and conventional foods under different production system and the detrimental effects.

Food Additives: 4 Lectures

Introduction, Objectives, Definition of additive, Difference with contaminants.

Codex Alimentarius.

Five ancient food preservation techniques - Canning, pickling, dehydration, salting, freezing.

Need for food additives, types of additives, criteria for use.

Classification of food additives - preservative, antioxidant, sequestrant, humectants, bleaching agents, emulsifiers, surface active agent, anti caking agent, colours, flavouring agents, buffers, glazing agents.

Numbering and labelling of additives. Toxicity and adverse effects, precautions, Food additives we need to avoid.

Food Adulteration:

4 lectures

Definition of adulteration, adulterant, poisoning, Cause of Adulteration, Types of adulteration – Intentional, metallic and incidental adulteration, Occurrence or methods of food adulteration- replacement, addition, removal.

Various food adulterants and their effect on health – adulterants in milk, vegetables, spices, oils, sweets, beverages etc.

Colourful chemistry and its abuse in food adulteration – various coloured organic compounds, inorganic salts, chemicals used in food adulteration and their effect.

Detection of various adulterants in food items such as milk, milk products, oils and fats,spices, vegetables etc.

Impact of adulteration – impact on enterprise, farmers, consumers.

Role of Government agencies – market surveys, inspection and testing, regulation and certification.

Prevention of food adulteration – brief introduction to laws and acts, precautions against adulteration.

Food Borne diseases:

2 lectures

Food Infections, Viral Infections, Infections due to Food Borne Parasites, Food Intoxication

Food Spoilage:

2 lectures

Food fit for Consumption, Deterioration of Food Quality, Causes of Food Spoilage, Spoilage of Various Food and Food Products

Objective: The objective of organizing Value Added Course on "Happy Eating and Good Living, Food Chemistry in everyday life" by Department of Chemistry in collaboration with IQAC Surya Sen Mahavidyalaya was to provide in depth knowledge about various aspects of "Food". After completing the course, the students will be aware of types of food they must intake.

Duration -30hours

Number of students participated: 66

Number of students completed: 51

Event Summary: The online course was specifically offered to the B. Sc students of the institution to enrich them with the versatile application of chemistry in foods. Faculties of Department of Chemistry delivered their lectures on various topics like Food constituents, food borne illness, additives in food, food adulteration etc keeping the relevance of the topic with present time scenario. E- Certificates were given to the students after they passed the course end examination.

REPORT OF ADD ON COURSE

TOPIC: WATER CONSERVATION

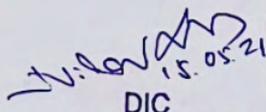

DATE: 10.05.2021 TO 15.05.2021

OBJECTIVES: TO AWARE THE STUDENTS ABOUT WATER CONSERVATION

Objective: Water conservation is a critical aspect of sustainable development, given the increasing global demand for water resources. Recognizing the importance of fostering a culture of water conservation, an add-on course on water conservation was introduced to address this pressing issue. This report provides an overview of the course content, its impact, and the key outcomes achieved. The primary objectives of the water conservation add-on course is to educate participants about the importance of water conservation and the current challenges faced in managing water resources.

Events summary:- Dept. of ENVS was organized a 30 hours Value Added Course from 10.05.2021 to 15.05.2021 with the 1st Semester students. In this covid period the classes was taken by online mode. The special invited lecture was delivered by Anushree Baul, Asst. professor, Department of ENVS, Siliguri College. Next day the lecture was delivered by Mr. Animesh Bose, Program Coordinator, Himalayan Nature and Adventure Foundation. Next 3 days the classed was taken by the faculties of the department. Over all 213 students enrolled their name but 149 students completed the course. The event was interactive and successful one.

Report on Add-on Course on 'Bangla Banan Bidhi'

Date:14.06.2022

Objectives: To learn spelling rules of Bengali Language for the students.

COURSE DURATION: 9th to 14 June, 2022, 30 Hours

The Department of Bengali, Surya Sen Mahavidyalaya, has taken initiative to introduce Add-on Course on "Bangla Banan Bidhi" from 9th to 14th June, 2022. This course is for Honors students of all semesters of Department of Bengali. Spelling is most important in literature. Spelling mistakes change the meaning of words or distort the meaning of a sentence. Therefore, thinking about the need of students to learn Bengali spelling rules has been selected in the add-on course. Lessons in add-on courses will expand the scope of knowledge as well as help in building a sophisticated personality. Spelling practices will help them in their future professional life. The Course will be conducted offline mode by the faculty of the Department of Bengali.

College students take 'add-on course' on 'Understanding Gender'

STATESMAN NEWS SERVICE
SILIGURI, 31 MAY

The Women's Cell of the Surya Sen Mahavidyalaya in Siliguri and the Internal Complaint Committee, in collaboration with the IQAC, recently organised a 30-hour 'Add-On Course' for students titled 'Understanding Gender.'

Around 100 participants attended the certificate course held through 23 May-27 May.

In the inaugural session of the programme, a welcome address was delivered by Prof Satya Saha, the Convener of the Women's Cell and the ICC, and the coordinator of the event, who emphasised on the complex relationship of the human body in relation to gender identity and sexual orientation, and also explained the objective and relevance of such a course in understanding gender-related issues.

The resource person for the inaugural day was Dr Pranab Kumar Mishra, the Principal of Surya Sen Mahavidyalaya, and his topic was 'Transgender, Gender Equality Versus Gender Equity: An Overview in Indian Context'.

"Dr Mishra explained in a simple yet effective manner the subtle differences between equality and equity, and explained the history of transgender people that dates back to the very ancient times in India. He also talked about the transgender identity in Modern India," a college official said.

On the second day, the resource person, Dr Anub Baul, spoke on the topic 'Grasping Basic Concepts of Gender.'

"Drawing his references from various texts, theories, movies and global information, he made his deliberation much interesting for the participants," the official added.

On the third day, resource person Dr Tamali Mustafi deliberated on 'The Female Foeticide: Beginning of Gender Discrimination in Society.' "Herself being a grassroots level researcher in this field, she was able to draw on many real life instances that she had witnessed," the college said. On the fourth day, Prof Manomita Sarkar spoke on 'Economic Independence in Relation to Women Empowerment and Equality'. In her discussions, she referred to Women's Self Help groups working in the districts of West Bengal and the energy, effort and perseverance of women of marginal rural areas which in a way was a very unique experience for the young participants, the college official added.

"On the last day of the course, in the concluding session, resource person Sri Amit Sarkar, Secretary of the Darjeeling District Legal Aid Forum, imparted some important legal information related to gender related rights and protection to the participants. Thus, the whole course not only apprised everyone of the nuances of gender expression and gender identity, but also covered a plethora of perspectives related to gender," the college official said.

Each day, the deliberation session was followed by a screen-show of a docuseries for about an hour. The event was conducted by the in-house members of the Women's Cell and ICC, including Prof Manomita Sarkar, Prof Sudeshna Mandal, Prof Suroree Mukherjee, Prof Babita Prasad, Atasi Ghosh Khandu and Tanima Ghosh.

"Prof Sattayak Sarkar's technical assistance deserves a special mention for the successful completion of the course," the college said.

“HERITAGE OF INDIA”
ORGANIZED BY
DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY IN COLLABORATION WITH IQAC
SURYA SEN MAHAVIDYALAYA

The 'Add On Course on Heritage of India' will be beneficial to students of History Honours and Program from many aspects. The simple notion of 'Heritage as 'what is inherited and historic buildings' has developed into a complex and varied understanding of the past, society, culture, politics, environment, heritage industry, etc. in the present day. The 30-hour course intends to broaden their scope of knowledge and develop consciousness of the society, cultural heritage and monuments or sites of the country and a sense of responsibilities for its conservation. At the same time the course will actively engage students to critically view the understandings of Heritage.

Place : KCPMSH, SSM

INAUGURATOR : Professor OM PRAKASH MISHRA
HON'BLE VICE CHANCELLOR
UNIVERSITY OF NORTH BENGAL

PARLIAMENT OF INDIA

Course Objective:

Parliament plays an important role in ensuring good governance and participatory democracy. It is actively engaged in the development and implementation of laws, policies, and practices. It also acts as a representative so that citizens and other stakeholders have a voice at the national level. Parliamentary process is what occurs in parliamentary bodies. It is a collection of rules, regulations, customs and ethics that govern meetings and operations of various organizations. Good parliamentary process aids in implementing sound principles of democracy. It helps in organising communication while providing a platform for a healthy discussion in which each representative is given a fair chance of expressing one's opinion. The end objective of implementing the parliamentary process is to reach the most appropriate decision in an orderly and fair manner. Thus, through this course an attempt has been made to acquaint the student broadly with the legislative India at various levels, introduce them to the requirements of peoples' representatives and provide elementary skills to be part of a legislative support team and expose them to real life legislative work. It will also deepen their understanding and appreciation of the political process and indicate the possibilities of making it work for democracy.

Course Outcome:

Parliament of India plays a significant role to secure democratic aspiration of her people. Hence, it is quite obvious that through this course students will be able to learn the degree of importance of parliament in public sector administration and reform policies. They will also be able to gain knowledge of how to actively engage themselves in the development and implementations of laws, policies and practices. Students can also learn the parliament proceedings i.e. how the rules, regulations, customs and ethics that govern the meetings and operations of various organizations. The knowledge gained through this course will enable the students to play a pivotal role in ensuring fair and orderly decision making. Further, it will help them to understand the powers and authority of the Parliament to supervise the functions and administration of the country and to align the policies and procedures as per parliamentary guidelines.
