Summary:

Strategic planning is a process in which organizational leaders determine their vision for the future as well as identify their goals and objectives for the organization. The process also includes establishing the sequence in which those goals should fall so that the organization is enabled to reach its stated vision

The strategic planning process requires considerable thought and planning on the part of an institution's upper-level management. Before settling on a plan of action and then determining how to strategically implement it, governing body may consider many possible options. In the end, an institution's management and all the stake holders will, hopefully, settle on a strategy that is most likely to produce positive results and that can be executed in a cost-efficient manner with a high likelihood of success, while avoiding undue financial risk.

The development and execution of strategic planning are typically viewed as consisting of being performed in three critical steps:

The first part of it addresses the vision, mission which the institute sees along with core values, institutional long term & short term goals. These are defined and guided by the stake holders (management, leadership, Heads of Department, faculty, staff, industry, students, alumni and parents) through SWOC analysis. After analyzing the internal and external environment, the institutional goals were set up in all possible growth domains through continuous thought process and discussion with Academic Committee Members and Governing Board members. The strategies with action plans were decided to achieve institutional strategic goals.

While formulating the strategic plan and deployment document, care has been taken to involve all stakeholders to help contribute their part which is imperative for the success of every organization. Effort is taken to identify clearly the implementation processes and monitoring by identifying measurable targets in line with the desired outcomes. This will emerge to be the guiding force to achieve its goal to become an institution of Academic Excellence and providing professionals, like skilled young educationist as well as an human being to the society.
